PAPUANS, BETWEEN TWO WORLDS
Director	Daniel Vigne	52'
Producer	Cineteve	2013
Original Languages	French	16/9
Available Versions	Subtitled in English
Through the path of two Papuans, Benneth and Jethro, this film aims to testify as objectively as possible to a traditional society at a turning point in its history. Benneth decides to go back in the latmul tribe to live closer to his roots and give meaning to his life: the young Papuan will become a "Crocodile Man" doing an ancestral initiation rite. Jethro struggles against a mining site in Porgera that expropriates Papuans. How do the Papuans perceive the changes taking place? Do they fear being caught up in the steamroller of globalization?

INTO THE WHITE WILD
Director	Olivier Pierre	90'
Producer	Have A Look	2013
Original Languages	French	16/9
Available Versions	Dubbed & subtitled in English
For over 200 years since its discovery, Antarctica has fascinated scientists and adventurers. Established as the first international scientific base, this ice continent sees every 'Summer' a flow of scientists back at work trying to unveil the secrets hidden under the ice cap. In this expedition discover the first ever built «Zero Emission» polar research station : Princess Elisabeth Antarctica. Share over a few months the daily life, sense of wonder and outstanding findings of these men and women in voluntary exile at the farthest reaches of the earth.

JUNGWA, THE BROKEN BALANCE
Director	Stanzin Dorjai Gya & Christiane Mordelet	52'
Producer	Lato Sensu Productions	2013
Original Languages	French	16/9
Available Versions	Subtitled in English
Ladakh, a small region in the north of India, has suffered many years of terrible natural disasters, possibly the consequences of climate change, and which regularly create many victims. Faced with this repeated "anger of the gods", a Ladakhi writer-director shares with us his concerns and the troubles of his people. He talks about the spiritual relationship between the Ladakhi people and nature. We follow him during his daily life, his encounters with fellow Ladakhis and through impressive Buddhist ceremonies. By discovering their lives we get closer to these people looking to the future and towards hope.

SUPER FUNGI
Director	Anne Rizzo & Thomas Sipp	52'
Producer	Les Films d'Ici	2012
Original Languages	French	16/9
Available Versions	Dubbed in English
Fungi are a constant subject of wonder for scientists. And they are promising so many applications that famous American mycologist Paul Stamets has come to the provoking expression : «mushrooms will help save the world». And indeed, scientific research is improving day after day its knowledge of fungi, revealing the exceptional biological proprieties and competences of this kingdom, the most ancient, the most resilient and one of the most sophisticated of nature.

ALBERT FALCO, THE OCEAN WHISPERER
Director	Sylvain Braun	52'
Producer	Lato Senu Productions	2012
Original Languages	French	16/9
Available Versions	Dubbed in English
«At a time of overfishing and growing concern about the future of oceans, this film tells the story of Albert Falco pioneer and key witness of the first major underwater explorations as captured in the acclaimed movie The Silent World. A lifetime's adventure that began in the 1950's with Commandant Cousteau on board the Calypso. As Captain of the Calypso and Cousteau's loyal second-in-command, this scuba diving veteran was the first man to experience life underwater in a diving station. Through his diaries, his encounters, photos and personal film archives, he tells us of the great history of underwater exploration, shares his passion for the sea and confirms his unwavering fight to preserve it.

THE BISHNOIS, INDIA'S ECO-WARRIORS
Director	Benoît Segur	52'
Producer	Gedeon Programmes	2011
Original Languages	French	16/9
Available Versions	Dubbed in English
The Bishnois remain the first eco-friendly religious community in Historical records. Originating from the Thar Desert in Rajasthan, their guru Jimbaji set out 29 rules related to protecting all forms of living creatures on Earth. Over the past 600 years, these people have been living in respect with nature, to the point of sacrificing their own lives to preserve it. By recounting the intimate story of some of its members in today's India, the documentary illustrates how these principles still guide their daily life and serve as an inspiration for modern day society.

MADAGASCAR, THE LOST MAKAY
Director	Pierre Stine	52' & 90'
Producer	Gedeon Programmes	2011
Original Languages	French	16/9
Available Versions	Dubbed in English
In 2009, a group of young French scientists led by Evrard Wendenbaum, found themselves crossing a "time frontier" when moving deep forward into the canyons formed by the Makay mountain range in Madagascar. This natural barrier has been protecting many and unique ecosystems for millions of years. It is an incredibly lush vegetation that revealed itself to the astonished eyes of the explorers. In 2010, Evrard is back together with an international team of geologists, etologists, biologists, naturalists, and anthropologists from all over the world.

THE DIAPER DILEMMA
Director	Jacqueline Farmer	52'
Producer	Nord Ouest Production	2011
Original Languages	French	16/9
Available Versions	Dubbed in English
Every child gets through some 6000 diapers before he's toilet trained. Every diaper takes 300 years to decompose in landfill. Worn for just a few hours, then chucked away to rot forever in the garbage, diapers are a symbol of our modern aspirations and consumerist society and have become an ecological nightmare. Both a serious and humorous investigation into the diaper dilemma, this film unfolds as a personal quest of the director (mother of two kids) in search of a sustainable alternative.

SOLA : LOUISIANA WATER STORIES
Director	Jon Bowermaster	52'
Producer	Ocean 8	2010
Original Languages	English	16/9
Available Versions	Dubbed in English
South Louisiana (SoLa) is in trouble. Everywhere you look in SoLa there's water and everyone in Cajun Country has a water story... a unique culture that binds the region. But Sola's waterways are also home to an imposing oil and gas industry and fishing business, both facing sizable changes. Locals involved in the big issues threatening the region wonder if they will be able to fix what has been done. This film offers a prescient look at exactly how the gusher in the Gulf was allowed to happen and a poignant look back at the Cajun culture which has contributed to make this a unique place in the US and may well be disappearing for good.

HUMANKIND & BIODIVERSITY, A WORK IN PROGRESS
Director	Bernard Guerrini	52' & 90'
Producer	Gedeon Programmes	2010
Original Languages	French	16/9
Available Versions	Dubbed in English
Where did the Conservation of Nature concept originate from and who were the pioneers? Who are the key players today and how does this translate into international policies? We will meet several trailblazers who are today inventing new ways for man to find his place in a well-preserved world.

GREEN
Director	Patrick Rouxel	48'
Producer	Tawak Pictures	2009
Original Languages	None	16/9
Available Versions	Dubbed in English
It is a visual ride presenting the treasures of rainforest biodiversity as it once was and the devastating impacts of logging and land clearing for palm oil plantations. A gripping account of an ecological disaster and a radical look at men's mass destructive power on the planet, which also tackles our role as citizens and consumers.

A WORLD WITHOUT ICE
Director	Thierry Piantanida	2x52'
Producer	Gedeon Programmes	2007
Original Languages	French	16/9
Available Versions	Dubbed in English
An investigative two part series carried out from Alaska to Russia and as far as the Antarctic. We shall meet with scientists and experts concerned with understanding the truth behind the climatic changes occurring, revealing the appetite of industrialists and adventurers involved in the cold rush in the North Pole region. This documentary is a journey into the heart of a dark reality we can barely dare to admit : human activity is radically transforming and modifying the way our terrestrial ecosystem functions. With the evidence to back up their words, the scientist at the frontline of these unprecedented climate changes explaining what is at stake and what is to come. A world where we are not merely simple spectators, but the actors in the drama, for better or for worse.

CARBON FOR WATER
Director	Evan Abramson	22'
Producer	Cows in the Field	2006
Original Languages	English	16/9
Available Versions	Dubbed in English
Our story is set in Kenya, where Vestergaard Frandsen distributed nearly 900,000 water filters across the province... but it wasn't charity, it was smart business! Watch what happens when four million Kenyans have access to clean water in their homes and how it impacts their lives, especially for women and girls. An insightful film which fuels the debate on carbon scheme.
